

Testimonial for Tiah Jye Chen

Tiah Jye Chen is our intern working for 3 months at ST Electronics (Info-Comm Systems) Pte Ltd. During his internship, he is very hardworking and responsive to his supervisor's work requirement. He has become one of our key project team members to support our project.

Due to his excellent internship with us, we requested him to join us as short term staff before his full time National Service started. In a short time, he has quickly learned and become our key project team support to bring national level project to successful completion. He is able to learn new configuration, plan and schedule for software version and data deployment. He is also able to quickly analyse the data log, conclude what could have gone wrong and recommend to customer how to use the system correctly.

He is also willing to roll up his sleeve and help to carry faulty hardware, test, troubleshoot and record down hardware faults.

He is a good team player, and at the same time exercise initiative to solve problem proactively. He is also a quick learner and is able to quickly adapt to new work requirement and work environment.

We are happy to be able to work together with him in challenging project requirement.

Yours Sincerely,
